

United Central in West Virginia

Since 1974 United Central Has Supported West Virginia's Natural Resources – Literally!

Change is inevitable.

The mining industry is no exception. Today's clean coal technology burns coal more efficiently, reducing sulfur and nitrogen oxide emissions that contribute to acid rain. This makes coal an increasingly intelligent fuel choice. Providing comprehensive solutions to the mining industry for 34 years, United Central Industrial Supply Company is a proud contributor toward energy independence.

Quality is our watchword.

Our centralized distribution system, coupled with more than 1100 manufacturing partners, operates through strategically-placed warehouses. This provides even our most remotely-located customers with quick access to an extraordinary range of products.

More than a just a company.

United Central is people; people who feel privileged to be part of this industry for which we share a common passion. It is a passion born of commitment, not only to our industry itself, but to our natural resources.

There are 24 United Central Distribution Services Centers throughout North America.
